Your Plan Members are Being Hassled Unnecessarily and Why It Is Costing You Money

You might not be aware that your plan members are being bombarded with repeated questionnaires asking for information about their recent health event.

Not only is this method of hassling the member completely unnecessary to identify subrogation matters, it leaves a great number of possible recoveries unidentified due to misleading information or questionnaires that simply never get answered.

Come learn more about what your members are experiencing, what to do about it, and how to assess and manage the impact that this is having on your rising health care costs.

Legislative Update: The monthly legislative update will be presented by Kirsten Garcia from Haynes and Boone.

ABOUT OUR SPEAKER

Tom Lawrence

Tom is considered by many to be the premier healthcare subrogation lawyer in the United States and is the CEO and founder of Benefit Recovery Group. He has focused his career on employee benefits law and related litigation.

Tom gained national recognition in 2002 and 2006 by handling two of the four healthcare subrogation cases that have been heard by the United States Supreme Court since ERISA was enacted in 1974.

As a recognized leader in healthcare subrogation law, Tom has handled many more cases than any other subrogation attorney in the United States. He has also trained, and continues to train, many of the healthcare subrogation professionals in the United States.
