The Medicalization of Unhappiness Wednesday, March 27, 2019

The Toronto Area Chapter of the International Society of Certified Employee Benefit Specialists presents our next education session "The Medicalization of Unhappiness" on Wednesday, March 27, 2019 at the Markland Wood Golf Club, Toronto.

This dynamic session will look at the changing medical and social landscape that has led to the proliferation of mental health diagnoses and the widespread prescribing of anti-depressants. Have normal, expected bouts of sadness become "medicalized" and are we in turn medicating large portions of the population unnecessarily? Are employer trends and research providing the same insights? This session will examine how the environment has changed over the last few decades, and plan sponsor options and care strategies that support employees appropriately while managing costs.

Presented by:

- Peter Gove, Innovation Leader, Health Management, Green Shield Canada
- Kristen Coady, National Disability Management, Morneau Shepell
