

Luke D'Alves

Partner, Managing Director, Infrastructure
McMorgan & Company
Toronto, Ontario

Luke D'Alves serves as Managing Director, Infrastructure at McMorgan & Company, where he is responsible for leading infrastructure initiatives spanning capital raising, fund management, and investment partner relations. Based in Toronto, Luke brings over 20 years of institutional infrastructure investment experience to McMorgan's expanding alternative investment platform. He has also served as a member of McMorgan's Investment Committee since joining the firm in 2021. Previously, Luke spent 15 years at OMERS Infrastructure, one of the world's largest direct investors in global infrastructure assets. As Director, Strategic Partnerships, he was instrumental in developing and managing the firm's co-investment strategy, overseeing all third-party relationships and the partnership investment process that enabled institutional clients to participate alongside OMERS in infrastructure transactions. Earlier in his tenure at OMERS, Luke served as a member of the global transaction team, where he evaluated investment opportunities across Energy, Utilities, and Transportation sectors, gaining comprehensive experience in infrastructure asset classes and deal execution. Luke holds an Honours Business Administration degree from the Richard Ivey School of Business at Western University.
