

Natashia Wright

Associate Director of Compliance
BRCC Client Service Leader
Decatur, Georgia

Natashia is an associate director of compliance with the Baldwin Regulatory Compliance Collaborative. She is an experienced human resources professional that has spent the last several years honing her understanding and skills related to employee benefits law and underlying human resources technologies. She enjoys the consultative approach to regulatory and legal education and works to deliver best practices guidance to her internal and external clients so that they may maintain compliance assuredness. Natasha provides senior-level compliance training and technical support to customers of the Baldwin Group, sales executives and client management teams. She is responsible for researching regulatory issues arising under laws such as HIPAA, MHPAEA, ERISA, FMLA and COBRA as well as issues arising under certain Internal Revenue Code Sections, including IRC §125 and IRC §105(h). She also participates in developing compliance communication strategies; providing training for client management teams and clients; and aiding in the marketing, sales and customer retention processes. Natasha is a dedicated professional who values clients and colleagues as the company's most important assets. Her career passion lies in providing solution-based services to both clients and colleagues. Natasha earned her undergraduate degree from the University of South Carolina and has accumulated over 20 years of experience. Before joining the Baldwin Group, she spent eight years as a human resources manager. Her expertise includes (1) human resources policy and procedure guidance, (2) benefits administration and compliance consulting, (3) assessment and administration of compensation guidelines, and (4) project management.
